ROLLINS MATRIMONIAL BUREAU IS STAGGERED

Department Prepares Itself For the Greatest June Rush in the History of the Institution

From the abundance of fraternity pins and engagement rings on the persons and fingers of our pretty maids of Rollins, it is evident that the Rollins Matrimonial Bureau is going to have a strenuous season this year. Romance is running rampant along the shores of Lake Virginia. Love seems to be generating itself in carload lots. Spring is in the air!

Actual count has it that there are twenty-nine engaged or about-to-be-engaged couples on the campus. Investigation conducted by the Sandspur during the past two weeks has resulted in the following list being compiled. This list of names is by no means permanent, and is subject to change without notice.

The Sandspur will be glad to rectify any mistakes.

Aloise James and Bob Wilson—Quite

Lions Roar Approval of Supporting College

Committee Named to Draw Up Plans for "Ladies Night" to Be Conducted by Club

With one colonel and three cap- of the campaign at their regular week- tains from their organization already in the drive to raise $300,000 in Orlando as part of the five million dollar endowment fund planned for Rollins College, Lions roared their approval ly noonday luncheon last week in the Angebilt.

Reports were read on the results of the Easter egg contest sponsored by Lions last Saturday and a committee was appointed to make arrangements for a "ladies night," because to use the words of Tom Gurney who opened discussion on the proposition:

Dr. Ingram is Speaker to Winter Gardeners

Dr. Harry Ingham, minister of the Methodist Episcopal church of Winter Park, was the Rollins College speaker at Winter Garden April 5. He spoke before a large Chautauqua audience, plans for which had been made by Miss Florence Bumby, "colonel" for the Rollins College development program for West Orange.

Dr. Ingham, who is an eloquent speaker, told his listeners of the new plans outlined by President Hamilton Holt for making Rollins the ideal small college in America and urged that the people of West Orange join with citizens of other parts of the county in making this great ideal possible.

Helen Terrell Winner of Allied Arts Prize

Miss Terrell Wins From a Field of Eleven Competitors

Miss Helen Terrell of the conservatory faculty is the winner of the prize of twenty-five dollars given by the Music Makers of the Allied Arts Club for the best musical composition. Eleven compositions were entered and judged by Horace Alwyne, head of the music department of Bryn Mawr College.

The title of the prize song is Journey's End and the words were written by Mrs. Rena Cary Sheffield of Winter Park. Mr. Carruthers, a student of the Conservatory of Music, sang the prize winning song at the last meeting of the Allied Arts Club held at Miss Leonard's studio last Monday evening. The song will be broadcast from station WDBO within a few days.

BACKERS OF ROLLINS DEVELOPMENT BANQUET

Irving Bacheller is Host at Dinner for Distinguished Group Backing Development Movement

Representing in the fullest degree the high lights of Orange County in social and worth while aspect, the Irving Bacheller dinner last week at the Angebilt topped interesting local events that have transpired for many a day.

It was a goodly company that crowded the banquet room to capacity. At the speakers' table were Karl Lehmann, Chairman of the Rollins College Development Movement, at his right, Irving Bacheller, at his left, Hamilton Holt. L. W. Tilden, W. R. O'Neal and Mayor Autrey completed the list of distinguished guests in the places of honor.

Calling upon each of the trustees of Rollins College to rise and be

Enthusiastic Meeting of Colonels and Their Staffs Held Last Night at the Angebilt Hotel

"Gentlemen," said Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins, at the meeting of colonels and their staffs at the Rollins development meeting last week at the Angebilt Hotel, "I have been spending the entire day going over plans for the perfecting of Rollins college with Director Architect Phineas Paist, and the Art Director Denman Fink, the men who created Coral Gables, at the behest of George M. Merrick.

"Mr. Merrick is a former student of Rollins and a present friend and benefactor.

"These gentlemen, through Mr. Merrick's generosity, are going to give us their best advice on how to achieve a perfect campus.

Waiters' Dance Makes Big Success in Gym

Last Saturday night the waiters in the Commons gave a dance to the college in Lyman Gymnasium. It was a remarkably successful affair, and drew many outsiders as well as students.

The gymnasium was decorated in a color scheme of blue and gold. Streamers spanned the building overhead, gold in the middle and on each side blue. In the very middle of the building hung a magic lantern. Music was furnished by the Rollins orchestra who were assisted by several players of the Fort Pitt Collegians, who, it happened were not engaged that evening.

The dance was a success, and it is hoped that the waiters will see fit to put on another in the near future.

Great Crowds Witness St. Augustine Regatta

Cross High Point Man; McIntosh High Point Girl in Exciting Canoe Races

Last Thursday four war canoe crews, two of men and two of women, journeyed to St. Augustine to assist in putting on the water regatta of the Ponce De Leon celebration in that city. Although it had been planned to run off the canoe races as a single event, bad weather Thursday prevented the speed boat races from taking place. Consequently, both canoe and power boat races had to be run off at the same time, the fast boats out in the middle of the bay on their course, the canoes closer into shore on a two hundred yard course.

Races which took place and the winners:

Girls' War Canoe .... McIntosh Crew
Men's War Canoe .....Scott Crew
Girls' doubles .... McIntosh, Galloway
Men's doubles .... Abbott and Zoller
Girls' catipillar, McIntosh, Galloway
Canoe Tilting ..... Cross and Tilden
Mixed doubles ..White and Galloway

J. K. Dorn Named New Trustee of Rollins

"It is With Considerable Emotion and Appreciation I Accept Appointment," Says Miamian

Announcement was made yesterday by Dr. Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins College, that he had received the acceptance of Joseph K. Dorn, of Miami, to fill a vacancy on the board of trustees of the institution. In a telegram to Dr. Holt, sent yesterday, Mr. Dorn said:

"It is with considerable emotion and a great deal of appreciation that I accept the appointment of a trusteeship of dear old Rollins College."

Mr. Dorn is an alumnus of Rollins

Rollins Baseballers Will Play Four Games

Rollins' baseball team will leave Wednesday afternoon on a trip that will take them into south Florida. They will play Fort Myers Thursday, Sarasota Friday, and Bradenton Saturday.

They will return to Winter Park Sunday. Monday morning the team will leave for the University of Florida where they will play a game with the Orange and Blue. Later in the week the Floridians will come to Winter Park to meet the Tars in a return game on the home grounds.

Rollins has excellent chances to win all of her games. The team this year surpasses any that the Tars have ever put out. We're waiting to see them even scores with the University.

NEW WORDS EDGING INTO DICTIONARY

Have you coined any new words that ought to get into use and find their horizontals in the new dictionary? If you think of any verbal mintage, shoot the same along to Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, managing editor of the New Standard Dictionary. It is said that more than 3,000 new words every year try to edge into the dictionary. "Snig" is a word that is now hanging around. It is supposed to mean something one tries to obtain "sight unseen." Then there is "brummy," another term for bogus. "Chaffeuse" is a title for the girl who "strings 'em along." Almost anybody could think of a better word than "dinkum," but that is a new one which is supposed to mean genuine. If "dinkum" gets in, there ought to be a place for "hunkydory." A newcomer to the dictionary door is "pitilacker," a title of reproach chosen in competition to describe a cruel person. Incidentally, several other names were discussed before "pitilacker" won the prize, and among these were "Hellbum," "Swunk," "Anicus," and "Bruton." There is just one term we'd like to submit to Doc. Vizetelly for his consideration. We like to hear it, and we have a feeling that it is destined to become one of the dictionary's gems. We refer to the combined form, steeped in honey and set to the softer tones of love, which, as nearly as it can be put in print, is "Olsweetthing."—LaFayette Journal.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

The monthly student recital by students of the Conservatory will be held next Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock in Knowles Hall. Last week an entertaining program was given and fully as interesting a program is being prepared for next week.

Ward: "Yes, and your's are the sweetest of all."—Wildcat.

presented to the company, Chairman Lehmann distinguished himself and at laughter and good fellowship through the same time sent a current of the room by his pat and characteristic labelling of each trustee in turn. Nor did he forget the serious and great and good things each man had done for the institution he holds in trust.

A report from each of the colonels in the campaign shortly to be launched was called for and each reported the status of his line-up. Of the ten colonels, only Judge D. A. Cheney was absent, unavoidably, Miss Florence Bumby, Col. R. M. Shearer, D. P. Sias, Leon B. Fort, Franklin O. King, J. Y. Cheney, Arthur Schultz, C. Ellwood Kalbach and John S. Jaquith being heard from satisfactorily.

The Glee Club of Rollins College, made up of about twenty young women, charmed the guests with several vocal renditions, Virginia Richardson, assisting at the piano and Gretchen Cox with violin.

Perhaps never in the history of the City of Orlando was a more intensely earnest appeal to its citizenry than that of Irving Bacheller, when he rose last evening to plead the cause of Rollins.

"I have the deepest appreciation for the work Rollins College has done in the past," said he. Some excellent men and women have been educated within her walls, but I am asking today whether Rollins is to take her place in our midst as prince or pauper.

"The institution at Winter Park is under indictment. It is not fit for occupation. It has been a mendicant, living from hand to mouth. Save for the fact that some of the men interested have gone into their pockets to keep it from starvation it would have died long ago. One of those men is William R. O'Neal, of Orlando.

"Is Orlando going to be satisfied with such an institution for a college? If it is, then it is better for me to resign. And when I am convinced that this section is satisfied with such a college, I will resign. If Orlando is satisfied with such conditions, then the college should be moved to a place where it can hold up its head. There, my friends, is the plain, uncontrovertible truth."

"Money is not everything," Irving Bacheller told his listeners. "There are many things more valuable than money. Now the time has come. We have had talk enough. The time is here now for action. The critical test of the spirit of Orange county is right now. We have at the head of Rollins a man who has the confidence of the best people in this country and who can be of service, not only to the college but to the whole community. He cannot go out and ask for $5,000,000 if you deny him the little he asks of you. We should not deny him. I think if we do, Rollins College would better move."

You have just heard one of Rollins College's best and oldest friends," said Chairman Lehmann, upon conclusion of Mr. Bacheller's address, "and now you are going to hear one of its best and newest friends; one who has become part of this county and the ideals for which it stands. It is my privilege to introduce to you Lions are asked to come on my team." Frank was given a good natured Lions horse laugh.

Lion Ellis gave every Lion attending the luncheon a beautiful red rose and Lion Thornton sent up a huge pretty layer cake. The cake was as delicious as it was pretty and Lions roared their approval by giving three Lion roars and Lions, "bite, bite, bite." One Lion, more ingenious than the rest added, "Bite, bite, bite the cake."

A resolution was made thanking the Orlando Boy Scouts and the Police department for their assistance at the Fair Grounds last Saturday during the Easter egg hunt. President "Steve" amusingly told of how two women came to the Yowell-Drew store armed with prize cards their little children had found in the bags of Easter eggs.

One mother brought in a little son and a card presenting him with a complete girls' outfit! The boy would not wear a girl's dress for anything in the world, so he was given a he-man's outfit. Barely five minutes later another mother with a little girl came in to claim the boy's outfit. She, of course wanted the dress and got it.

Showing just how odd it was that no one calling the department could get what the cards entitled them to, another mother with a son and daughter came to get the sweater offered to either a boy or girl and the sweater wouldn't fit! They had to go elsewhere and purchase the sweater with a credit slip.

The luncheon started off with the singing of "America" and invocation by Dr. Tupper. "Radio" Willetts and "Pa and Ma" McConnell had difficulty in getting the Lions to sing, "Yes, We Wear Our Pajamas." Lion Curran remarked: "Why tell the popeyed world we wear our pajamas. They ought to know we do."

The senior piano recital of Lucille Waters will inaugurate that week in Winter Park. Miss Waters will give her recital at Knowles Hall Monday evening, May 3.

PERSONALS

Gladys, Louise, Evelyn, Grace and Helen were seen wearing mourning bands around their necks when the boys were in St. Augustine. It is said they wore it where they missed 'em most.

Jimmie Wright thinks the Battle of Bulls Run was a decisive battle of the Revolutionary War.

Homer and Bee almost fooled the campus—we thought Cuba was to welcome a real pair of newlyweds.

Bud Walker has been guarding the post office lately. We wonder why??

Martha Willaman looked quite happy Sunday night—three guesses why!

Foss and Herb came down this week and brought some Stetson visitors.

We'll say the Table-Hops know their tomatoes—quite a dance Saturday night.

Evelyn Green paid her esteemed parents a week-end visit.

Buzz and Bud motored to Auburndale Sunday morning.

Dan's left—we wish him the best of luck, but at the same time we're mighty sorry to see him go. We hope to see him here again next year.

Red Winderweedle seems to be mighty clever with the coffee cups. Jack and Miguel will testify to that.

Homer received a lot of congratulations. Too bad he couldn't honestly accept them.

D. B. was the escort of four young ladies at the Whistling Kettle last week. Some harem!!

Kappa Epsilon wishes to announce as Mother, Mrs. Irving Bachelor; as Mother Emeritus, Mrs. John K. List.

Mr. Gasten chaperoned a crowd of young folks to St. Augustine last week. The biggest time imaginable was reported. Ask Bobby. Or any of the others who were: Marjory Ufford, Dora Gasten, Clarence Draa, Barbara Floyd, Robert Gasten, and Mr. Gasten, Sr.

Mike sez: "A fraternity pin used to mean an engagement, now all it stands for is necking privileges."

George Krichbawm is doing nicely after his recent operation. "Hotsy" is now convalescing at Lakeside.

It's getting to be quite a habit with these Phi Alpha boys to give away their pins. Sid Carlson and Carl Warner are the latest to fall for the charms of these co-eds.

Hot Stuff From St. Augustine: The select few who visited the Spanish Club report a plenty hot time.

Hub White and some of his best friends were entertained by his mother and sister Yvonne during the regatta.

Frank Abbot and his crew deserve the merry ha ha for their wonderful example of seamanship.

Bob Tilden took some mighty interesting pictures on the ocean beach. He says he obtained some very good nature studies.

"Okee" says that at last he has realized his ambition. He wore a Committee badge.

The average length of a man's arm is thirty-six inches. "Oh, ain't nature grand?"

What a life. We come from monkeys; some of us are donkeys, and we are all going to the dogs.

ODDS AND ENDS

Dickie is anxious to be an official again. Did you see her peachy new compact?

Miss Bois was a stepmother last week??? Oh, she adopted Cloverleaf during Miss Gartland's absence.

Beata Meyers and Dorothy Cosby week-ended in Orlando. Go again—the angel food cake was delicious.

Do you need a cook? Evelyn and Gladys qualify, after cooking dinner at Catherine Well's Saturday.

Those deserving mention—the girls they left behind them: Martha's crew, who lost gracefully.

The Weeping Widows met on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 and mingled their teams with the raindrops.

A cyclone struck the peaceful domain of Cloverleaf at ten o'clock Frinight. It was the return of the "Lost Tribes" from the ancient of cities—St. Augustine. From all reports they brought back the bacon alright.

Sunday night, 9:45, Cloverleafites wait expectantly, breathless. Surely there'll be one more added to the ranks this lovely evening.

There wuz! Martha Wilimon this time. Congratulations!! Sid.

Who did win the mixed doubles? I should like to know? Iverne blushes and nods, yes. So does Bernice. ????

Prof. Harris: In English Lit. Class —There's a boy in here so dumb th he thought a hen-pecked husband w a poultry man.

J. K. DORN NAMED NEW TRUSTEE OF ROLLINS

College, and his acceptance of a membership on the board of trustees of the institution came to Dr. Holt during the preparations for the $300,000 campaign that is to begin Tuesday night. It followed a visit made by Dr. Holt to Miami, at which time he was entertained by Mr. Dorn at his home.

While in Miami, Dr. Holt obtained assurance from Mr. Dorn and George E. Merrick that the Rollins alumni in Miami and surrounding territory would subscribe 100 per cent to the Rollins campaign. This assurance was backed, Dr. Holt said, by Mr. Dorn and Mr. Merrick, who agreed to underwrite a subscription from every Rollins alumnus and every former Rollins student in that section of Florida.

Mr. Dorn was actively identified with Rollins affairs in Miami before he accepted the trusteeship of the college. He is president of the Rollins Club of Miami, and he has kept in touch with the school constantly since his graduation. Upon the occasion of the 26th annual reunions of Rollins alumni in February, he sent a telegram to A. J. Hanna expressing his approval of what he termed "Dr. Holt's wonderful policy," and pledged his own support to help Dr. Holt make Rollins "the best small college in America."

Mr. Dorn was present when the city of Miami was put on the map of Florida 27 years ago. He is an active member of the Exchange Club of Miami, having been its president and afterward having been elected president of the Exchange Clubs of Florida. He heads the real estate firm bearing his name, and the Dorn Auto Company. He is president of a large bond and mortgage company, and a director of the Miami Bank & Trust Company. He is a charter member of the Miami Chamber of Commerce.

GETS SCORPION IN EASTER EGG

Juliana Hastrea, a young Argentine singer, has been stung on the finger by a scorpion, sent her enclosed in a gaudy Easter egg.

Mlle. Hastrea, whose home is in Buenos Aires but who now resides in the Latin quarters, received a superb chocolate Easter egg, handsomely bound by ribbons. It was opened during a dinner at a restaurant. Inside it was a little box, carefully wrapped.

Mlle. Hastrea, delighted in the belief that a pleasant surprise was in store for her, got her fingers all mixed up in her hurry to untie the string binding the little box. When finally it was opened, out came a dozen foul smelling cockroaches and a small scorpion.

HAMILTON HOLT TELLS OF PLANS FOR ROLLINS

"I can announce also at this time that a little while ago Mr. Hanna and I had a very delightful interview with Mr. Reasoner who has the finest gardens in the South. He promised to give us a great many plants and make the Rollins campus the most beautiful place in the state of Florida along horticultural lines."

Hamilton Holt then paused to stress earnestly the necessity of a great and abiding faith in the active campaign for funds soon to be waged. "If you have faith, if you believe," said he then, "you can do twice as much.

"This great achievement is right within the grasp of Orange county. I know there is not a person here who will start out at nine o'clock in the morning feeling in his heart that he will win, that won't be surprised at how many will respond to that faith.

"We had the great pleasure of having with us today Joseph K. Dorn, the most recent member of the Rollins college board of trustees, and one of Miami's most distinguished citizens. I wanted to bring him with me tonight, but in my haste, because I was late, I let him slip out of my hands.

"I apologize to you that, through me, you have missed a great pleasure."

With the spirit, the energy and the clarion tones for which he is famous, General Chairman Karl Lehmann presided at the meeting.

He emphasized every necessary point, called attention to every duty of colonels, lieutenant-colonels, aides, captains, and team workers and many and varied were the sallies of wit that met his requests for this report and that.

Some of the keenest minds in Orlando were present and lived up to the reputations they have earned.

There were the "Cheney twins," as someone present dubbed them, both colonels in the Rollins movement. Colonel Sias, Colonel Leon Fort, William Justic Lee, Dr. Vincent, Frank Haithcox, Franklin King, Colonel Jacquith, Tom Lantz, who claimed he had the only cosmopolitan "team" a Jew, an Indian, an Irishman, an Irishman, an American and a Dutchman.

Carl Hunt stated that his eight lientenant-colonels or thereabouts, had been stolen from him; Col. Florence Bumby declared her organization was getting better all the time. Arthur Schultz was one of the 100 percenters.

Tom Lantz said that Frank Burns and Blaine McGarth had promised to be there but at the last minute their wives had locked up their clothes, or words to that effect.

On Sunday, Chairman Lehmann said, literature will be distributed at every church and he expects those present to see that it is placed in the hands of each member of the congregation.

Every team organization must report 100 per cent at the next meeting and everyone must be present from the head of each band down to its last man, it was stated.

"If any instructions are needed call the Rollins development headquarters in the First Presbyterian Church, 3136," said Mr. Lehmann. "Also," he added, "each colonel is asked to report the personnel of his entire organization, for publicity purposes. This is imperative. Typewrite the names if possible," he said.

Last Wednesday Miss Niles, Miss and Mrs. Johnston gave a musical program at the County Meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs in Cocoa.

Note:—This list was compiled correctly insofar as possible. Innate modesty, virtuous modesty, sometimes kept the romantic couples from talking of themselves. Consequently, collecting the names became a difficult task. However, if anyone has been left out, please forward your name to the Rollins Sandspur, and it will be added to the list.

the Rollins college students proved to be one of the most exciting events of the day. Several thousand spectators witnessed the races from the shore, lining the shore in a solid mass for almost a mile on both sides of the starter's dock.

After the program had been practically completed, canoers from the Seminole Canoe Club of Jacksonville arrived. A race was scheduled between one of their teams and a Rollins team composed of John Scott and Paul Hilliard. It turned out a tie, and in the deciding race the Jacksonville team won out.

The water regatta was staged under the auspices of D. P. Davis, developer of Davis Islands of Tampa and Davis Shores of St. Augustine. Rollins canoers were treated royally, the entire town thrown open to them.

Fleetwood Peeples is to be congratulated on his management of the races.

THE CASE OF JIMMY FITZAPATRICK

leaned forward in his eagerness to hear what the lieutenant had to say.

" 'I was having a glass of claret when they came in and sat down at this very table. I saw at once that she was the girl that you had been engaged to, so I paid close attention to her and to her companion.'

" 'And then?' asked Fitzpatrick.

"The lieutenant continued. 'I did not see them order anything, but evidently they had been here bofore because pretty soon the proprietor brought them two glasses of sparkling wine. The man did not touch his, but the lady sipped hers slowly. They were arguing heatedly about something, what, I could not make out. The man's face grew darker and darker with rage, while the flush
